

"CAVE MAN," IS PRINCESS' CRY IN COURT

Rose Silk-Clad Vision Sweeps Through Court, Bestowing Brilliant Smile and Greeting On Accuser Engineer

Suitors Classified by Colors; Erich Buehle "My Green Man" She Explains; "Princess" No Business to Officer

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The girl who calls herself Princess Della Patricia, of Alexandria, Egypt, and who is accused of swindling Erich Buehle, San Francisco mining engineer, out of $7000, took a fine at her accuser as she left the superior court of Judge Ward today, whither she was taken for arraignment.

As she passed Buehle, she turned to him with a dazzling smile and said: "Erich, my cave man!"

Before Buehle could reply his lawyer clutched him by the arm and drew him away.

The Princess entered a plea of not guilty to Buehle's charge, and the case was continued to July 13.

Della Patricia entered the courtroom clad in rose-colored silk, an abundance of summer fur and silver slippers. She stood erect, before the bench and her eyes sparkled.

ESPIES BUEHLE, AS SHE LEAVES

When the accusation was read to her, she replied, sharply: "Not guilty!"

She turned, her lawyer beside her, to leave the courtroom, then suddenly noticed Buehle, whom she calls "the green man," standing with his counsel near the door.

When she smiled and called him "cave man," Buehle seemed anxious to make answer.

The Princess in this country is a movie star, by inclination and address, by birth, to all the dandies and charms which enabled Cleopatra, whom she claims as an ancestor, to turn ancient Rome upside down.

The young woman, whose striking looks are emphasized by diamonds and clothes which typify the highest art of the fashionable designers, when booked at the hall of justice following her arrival from New York, declared that she was tired of all the pomp and worries of being an Egyptian princess and that she intended to become an American.

"What is your objection?" asked the booking sergeant.

Aged and Infirm Flock To Goat Gland Doctor

By W. BOYD GATEWOOD, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The highways and the railroads for hundreds of miles around, from San Diego to Puget Sound, are bearing today scores of the ill and the aged and infirm in a pilgrimage back to the shrine of youth and renewed vitality for the Burbank of surgery, Dr. J. R. Brinkley, of Milford, Kan., is here performing modern miracles with the glands of the lowly goat.

Dr. Brinkley has brought his goat gland surgery to the Pacific Coast. He has already performed half a dozen operations in a San Francisco hospital and will perform a dozen more at least before the call of the weak and the unhappy takes him back Milford, Monday, to minister to his ill. While here, in association with Dr. P. H. Harty and Dr. E. H. Plymire, San Francisco surgeons, he expects to restore health and re-vitalization to such heretofore hopeless sufferers as these:

Kelley Testifies He Was Sober When Arrested

Former Supervisor Says He Only Drank Three Glasses of Sherry.

Joseph M. Kelley, former supervisor and assessor of this county, charged with driving an automobile while drunk on the morning of March 2, on the witness stand in Superior Court today, denied he was drunk. He also denied practically all of the other statements made by witnesses for the prosecution in regard to his actions and appearance at the time of his arrest.

The indications are that the case will go to the jury late this afternoon, although if the arguments take up any length of time it may be tomorrow morning. The case, which was expected to be bitterly contested, proceeded smoothly today with neither side entering many objections.

THREE GLASSES OF SHERRY FOR DINNER

When called to the witness stand, Kelley told of having dinner at the home of his sister, 618 East Fourteenth street, about 7 o'clock, on the evening of March 1. During the meal he had three glasses of sherry.

Later he went to his laundry on Grove street, where he worked two hours. At about 11:30 o'clock he started downtown and while on Broadway he met Inspector Robinson of the police department, whom he drove to the latter's home on Telegraph avenue. While driving he took her to dinner at the Municipal auditorium when his car became stalled upon the street car track.

Kelley substantiated the testimony of George Lynch, an employee of the laundry, and others preceding him, that the car was in bad condition and that the gears would frequently jam and the car could not be started. Kelley claims this had happened at the time of his arrest.

DEFENSE SEEKS TO IMPEACH TESTIMONY

Through Kelley, and substantiated by police officers who searched him at the city jail, the defense sought to impeach the testimony of Robert Tracy and John Gannaw that Kelley was so intoxicated he was unable to light a cigarette.

Kelley testified he never smokes cigarettes and did not have any in his possession. The police officers who searched him testified he did not have any cigarettes.

FOUR NAMES ENTERED FOR THIRD PARTY

Laborite Leaders, in Session Today, Press Union Title; American, Liberal, Peoples Are Others Being Boomed

Henry Ford Put Forward As a Possible Ticket Head; Former Bull Moosers Busy in Dingy Headquarters Abode

CHICAGO, July 9.—Four names were ready today for a new political party, expected to be launched here next week.

The National Labor Party will insist on the adoption of its title by the amalgamated organizations.

Other names offered are The American Party, The People's Party or The Liberal Party.

Elsewhere is meeting the executive committee of the National Labor Party. Upon their decision, largely depends whether that party will cast its lot with the new "third party" movement.

Several of the labor leaders take the position that the "third party" must come to them if there is to be a coalition. They insist that the labor party name must be carried as the title of a union so formed. When this was put to Frank J. Esper, secretary of the labor party, however, he would not make this statement.

PROPOSE WOMAN FOR SECOND PLACE

One radical innovation which the Labor party is planning for its convention and which it may insist on if it becomes a unit, is the nomination of a woman for vice-president. A candidate named in this connection is Mrs. Toscan Bennett, a Connecticut, who was among the suffragists who picketed the White House and took part in the Wilson speech burning episode.

Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin is talked of by the leaders of both parties as presidential nominee of their choice. Others mentioned by the labor unions as candidates are: Frank P. Walsh, Governor Frazier of New York; Charles F. Hughes, Governor of New York; Herbert H. Hooper, Governor of Ohio; Glenn E. Plumb, Philbrick, Frederick C. Howe, John Haines Holmes, Owen R. Lovejoy and Dudley Field Malone.

FOR POSSIBLE URGED BY MICHIGAN

Henry Ford's name was brought forth today by Charles Hoffman of Grand Rapids, Mich. Liberal as a possible presidential nominee, Hoffman said he expected the Michigan delegation to the Committee of Forty-eight convention to vote for Ford.

"I conferred with Ford yesterday in Detroit, and while he said he was not a candidate, he assured me that if the convention saw fit to nominate him he could think of no legitimate reason for declining," Hoffman said.

The first meeting of the American Constitution Party will be held here tonight.

Allies' Ultimatum Signed by Berlin Delegation; Pledge to Begin Disarming At Once Is Given Conference At Spa

Teutons Protest Provision for Ruhr Occupation As Breach of Treaty; Compulsory Service Is Abolished in Army

By Associated Press. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SP. BELGIUM, July 9.—The Russian Soviet government has accepted all the conditions laid down by Premier Lloyd George for a resumption of trade relations, as a result of the conferences in London with Leonide Krasin, according to an announcement made in British circles here tonight.

By CARL D. GROAT.

United Press Staff Correspondent. SPA, Belgium, July 9.—The German delegation today agreed to meet the terms of the Allied ultimatum, demanding she disarm her forces immediately. The Germans signed the agreement shortly before noon.

The Germans, however, in signing the ultimatum, protest against the position that Allied forces occupy the German territory on the Ruhr river unless the German army is reduced to 150,000 officers and men by October 1, claiming that this demand was a violation of the Versailles treaty.

COMPULSORY ARMY SERVICE ABOLISHED

The Germans agreed to the first four terms set down in the Allied ultimatum, as follows: Disarmament of all German forces, including the security police, must begin immediately.

Germany must publish a proclamation ordering immediate surrender of all arms held by German civilians. All arms, ammunition, guns and cannon in excess of the treaty terms must be handed over to the Allies.

OCCUPATION CLAUSE

The fifth proposal said that unless the German army was reduced to 150,000 by October 1, the Allies would occupy the Ruhr district of other German territory, which would be held until such time as all conditions of the ultimatum were fulfilled.

While the Germans agreed to reduce the military forces within the allotted time, they declared the Allies had no right to threaten occupation of the Ruhr, but that they were not in accordance with the peace treaty.

Prospective Pact Will Cover All Matters in the Pacific; Japanese Alliance to Be Dropped, Is Claim of Paris

Australia and New Zealand Reported Behind New Plan in Effort to Thwart Aims of Japan in Colonization

By United Press. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, July 9.—England has made overtures to the American government looking toward an Anglo-American Pacific alliance which the British government desires as a substitute for the present Anglo-Japanese pact which expires in 1921, according to officials at the French foreign office today.

It was believed that unless the United States is willing to enter into such an agreement with Great Britain, the Japanese alliance will be renewed, with the insertion of a clause stipulating that England never will go to war against the United States.

Australia and New Zealand were reported pressing the British government for an agreement with America in regard to the Pacific.

The first Anglo-Japanese alliance was concluded in January 30, 1902. It soon became of far greater significance than was realized by its authors. It prescribed that if either high contracting party should become involved in war with a third power, the other high contracting party should maintain a strict neutrality and exercise its influence to prevent other powers from joining in hostilities against it.

It was only in the event of a third power or powers joining in hostilities that the assistance of the second contracting party, to the extent of a declaration of arms, was demanded. At the time of its signing the only power expected to encroach upon Japan was Russia.

It was near the close of the Russo-Japanese war that Great Britain made a move for a new alliance or the renewal of the old, and the second Treaty of Alliance, was signed on August 12, 1905. The following clause was included in the document:

JAPAN WAS READY TO TAKE CARE OF ASIA.

"If, by reason of unprovoked attack or aggressive action, wherever arising, on the part of any Power or Powers, which might bring Japan into the world war, the treaty was to have remained in force for ten years but circumstances obliged a revision in August, 1911. The feeling in Japan was that the Japanese United States over the Japanese problem on the Pacific coast and the fact that the treaty would mean that England must be aligned against this country in the event of any dispute was responsible for a number of conferences. Then Japan assured America and England that the Anglo-Japanese alliance could not be applied to an American-Japanese war. On July 13, 1911, a provision was inserted which, in effect, released Britain from any part in American quarrel with Japan. It read:

ENGLAND RELEASED FROM U.S. QUARREL.

"Should either high contracting party conclude a treaty of general arbitration with a third Power, it is agreed that nothing in this agreement shall entail upon either contracting party an obligation to go to war with the Power with whom such treaty of arbitration is in force." Directly after the United States and England signed such a treaty of arbitration.

This is the present situation. The treaty is to expire in August and there is widespread feeling in Japan that Britain will not renew it. In Japan it was believed that England signed the treaty in 1911 with the idea of forestalling German aggression in China and that this reason is now removed. It is pointed out that the four years since the treaty was signed, Japan's policies toward China, and the growing friendship of the natives of India and Japan is another cause for suspicion on the part of England if the alliance is not renewed there are many in Japan who predict a treaty between Russia and Japan will follow.

Palmer Office Campaign Help, Quizzers Told

Cost of Living Drive Only a Blind to Aid Candidacy, Woman Testifies.

By Associated Press. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

Charges that persons employed through the attorney general's office, ostensibly to aid in reducing cost of living, really were working to have A. Mitchell Palmer nominated for president at the Democratic national convention, were made before the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today by Miss Olivia Brueggeman.

Miss Brueggeman formerly was executive secretary of the Missouri women's committee to reduce the high cost of living. She was supposed to attend meetings on the high cost of living actually spoke only on Palmer, telling what a fine man he would be for president. These workers frequently traveled at government expense, she declared.

"I was dismissed from my office because I was a Republican," she said.

Delegates to the Missouri Democratic convention which helped out Senator James A. Reed from his national convention seat were supposed to have been paid for their expenses money by two factions, one favorable to Attorney General Palmer and the other to Governor Cox, according to witnesses today before the senate committee.

Poland has plenty of guns, munitions and airplanes, but it is outnumbered by the Russian forces. Premier Grabski told the International News Service.

"Reports regarding the situation in the east have been exaggerated," declared the Polish statement. "We are now engaged in raising a reserve army, which will go a long way toward stopping the Russian Bolsheviks. We have plenty of munitions, we have the Russians' advantage, but we are outnumbered. The situation is not grave."

Premier Grabski denied that Poland is pressing the allies for her share of indemnity.

Puglist Wants to Be Assured of Certain Privileges Before Giving Himself Up.

By Associated Press. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, now a fugitive from American justice, today in a long-distance telephone from Tijuana, Lower California, offered to surrender himself to federal authorities here if he were accorded certain privileges.

W. P. Hull, special agent of the Department of Justice, who told of Johnson's offer, said he refused to make any bargain with the negro fighter, a charge of which Johnson is accused. He further demanded, Hull said, that he was at no time to be handcuffed as a prisoner.

Hull stated he told Johnson he could please himself about crossing the line, but that if he did so he would be treated exactly the same as any other person with whom the American government had a warrant.

Later, after conferring with J. Robert O'Connor, United States district attorney, Hull stated that the Department of Justice was not concerned with Johnson, and his arrest was an arrest for the United States Marshall. A copy of the indictment against Johnson and a warrant for his arrest are in the hands of C. T. Walton, United States marshal here.

Marshall Walton said today the prologue of Johnson would be his arrest, a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Andrews in San Diego, his removal to the Los Angeles county jail here, an order for his removal to Chicago by a United States district judge and his escort east by officers "just like any other prisoner."

He estimated that not more than 500 men had been involved in recent outbreaks.

He asserted the army had been reorganized and that unstable forces could not shake the administration. "The Carranza government," said de la Huerta, laughing, "stood for four years against the revolution, and there is no reason why the present government cannot contend with less than 500."

ROBBERY HALTS WHEN AIREDALE SOUNDS ALARM

It was not the fault of an Airedale dog confined in a room adjoining the room occupied by Lester Combs, 1716 San Pablo avenue, that burglar who broke into the room early morning obtained $150.

But Combs said that in all probability he could thank the dog for the fact that the thieves beat a hasty retreat and left his watch and other valuables untouched.

Combs was awakened at 5:45 this morning by the growling and barking of his dog. He sat up in bed just in time to see two prowlers enter through the door.

They had taken $150 from Combs' trousers pockets, and then fled when the dog gave the alarm. Thieves broke into the Franklin Candy Shop, 400 Fifteenth street, last night, and rifled the cash register of its contents, consisting of small change. Before leaving they

Health Center Budget Of $58,000 Asked From Board

Following a preliminary conference with Chairman John F. Mullins and W. J. Hamilton of the board of supervisors, during which the plans of the public health center were laid before those officials, representatives of that organization have submitted a budget for its needs for the ensuing fiscal year of 1920-21.

The budget, which will be presented to the supervisors at their regular meeting Monday, calls for an appropriation of $58,000, which the supervisors are expected to make provision for in the tax levy. This represents an increase of about $18,000 over the appropriation of last year. Those who discussed the matter with Mullins and Hamilton were Dr. Alvin Powell, physician in charge of the work and medical instructor for the Oakland public schools; Miss Annie Florence Brown and C. E. Snook.

TO EXTEND WORK.

Last year's appropriation included the amounts usually set apart by the board for the anti-tuberculosis society, the dental clinic and the surgical and medical care of indigents, which helped themselves to a large supply of candy.

TEACHERS FAVOR STUDY OF THRIFT

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 9.—A uniform plan for the introduction of a compulsory course in individual finance in every public school in America will be formulated by a committee appointed today by the state superintendent of the National Education Association in session here. The committee composed of seven members, will co-operate with officials of the savings division of the Treasury Department in working out a course of study in thrift, saving and safe investment.

Five states already have made the study of thrift compulsory in their schools through legislative enactment, and a score of others have provided thrift courses but the committee will standardize a course which may be used universally.

Will C. Wood, California superintendent of public instruction, is a member of the committee.

FAVORED DELEGATE PLAN.

Several hundred Utah teachers last evening voted endorsement of the "delegate plan" of reorganization for the National Education Association and agreed to work for its adoption in the association's business meeting tomorrow. The scheme is the chief issue before the present convention of that body. A clash between forces favoring and opposing reorganization was expected, but failed to develop.

Markaret Haley, of Chicago, leader of those who oppose reorganization, attended the meeting but did not speak. Only Utahans were permitted the floor. Speakers not recognized by the chairman were required to give their names and residences before addressing the meeting.

J. Fred Anderson, president of the Utah Education Association, who presided, announced he had expelled two stenographers who had begun taking a record of the meeting for some persons whom he did not name.

CONTROL IS CLAIMED.

Hugh S. Magill, field secretary of the association, declared that without reorganization it was impossible for the teachers of the locality where the annual meeting was held to control that meeting. Utah, he said, could bulk large in today's business meeting or even control it.

Howard R. Briggs, of Chicago, formerly of the University of Utah, made a strong appeal to the Utahans to use this threat to adopt the new plan and make it impossible for any locality "ever to pack a convention again." Briggs referred to the meeting last year at Milwaukee, Wis., which he said was controlled through the votes of teachers of that locality.

That the Utahans' votes will carry the business meeting today for the reorganization plan is disputed almost nowhere.

OAKLAND BEHIND BERKELEY, CLAIM

Claim was made in a statement issued today by the Teachers' Professional Wage Campaign committee, through its general chairman, C. E. Cave, that Oakland was falling of its usual educational lead in the county by permitting Berkeley and Alameda to forestall it with a raise in teachers' salaries. The statement is as follows:

"We are not surprised that the Alameda city council has granted a $500 salary increase to Alameda teachers. The recent action of the Berkeley city council in voting a flat $500 increase to Berkeley teachers was also expected. Favorable action by the board of supervisors of Alameda county will now raise the salary schedules of Berkeley and Alameda teachers well above the Oakland schedule.

"Naturally, we are somewhat humiliated that Oakland seems for the moment to be trailing behind all the other bay cities in the matter of teachers' salaries. That not only Berkeley and Alameda but many other cities in California shall be able to offer greater inducements to superior teachers is not in keeping with Oakland traditions. We are accustomed to taking the lead educationally.

"We feel confident that this condition is only temporary. Constant additions are being received to the thousands of endorsements of a salary increase which we already have on our files. Other evidence is reaching us daily that the people of Oakland are behind their public schools in this emergency. The wishes of the people will be respected when final action is taken by the city and county officials."

MAYOR SNYDER TO PROBE GRAFT

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—An investigation of alleged graft and protection of vice by the Los Angeles police department was asked in a communication Mayor Meredith P. Snyder announced today he was forwarding to the county grand jury. The mayor said charges of corruption in the police department had come from various sources and he planned to learn whether they were true.

"As the city's mayor," his statement read, "I have the right to go directly to the grand jury with this matter and that is what I shall do. I do not expect to call upon the district attorney or anybody else to open up this matter for me."

Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, said he "had been of the opinion for some time that some Los Angeles police officers were corrupt, and had no doubt some of the grand jurors were of the same view."

"I shall be glad to have the mayor or any other citizen give any testimony on this matter to the grand jury," said Woolwine. "But if there is any investigation it will be conducted by the grand jury and the district attorney, according to the law."

HOPES OF WOMEN FOR LOUISIANA GO GLIMMERING

BATON ROUGE, La., July 9.—All possibility of Louisiana enfranchising the women of the nation through ratification of the Federal suffrage amendment was removed last night when the biennial session of the State legislature adjourned sine die.

From the first to the last day, suffrage ratification was given consideration, either in the committee rooms or on the floors of both houses. The ratification resolution was defeated by both house and senate early in the session, but the suffrage forces worked to bring up another resolution. Hopes of success were heightened Wednesday by the appeal of Governor Cox. Attempts yesterday to obtain suspension of the rules to bring up a ratification resolution in the house failed, 55 to 45.

Supporters of bills to grant the vote to white women of the State also met defeat during the session, all such bills having been defeated.

94-CENT RATE, BARTLETT'S PLAN

BERKELEY, July 9.—Can the general government of Berkeley be operated on a tax rate of 94 cents? The question created a furor in the council this morning when the proposition was offered by Carl Bartlett, commissioner of finance. Bartlett maintained that the achievement could be accomplished. His colleagues heatedly disagreed with him. The matter has been taken under consideration.

Bartlett's plan would eliminate the secretary to the mayor, which office he declares a "luxury," and combine the stenographic work of the mayor and city attorney under one employee. He would reduce the salaries of the city attorney from $250 to $150; and city engineer, from $300 to $250. Stenographic work would be combined on a half-day basis. The salary of the city clerk would be increased from $185 to $200. The budget for the fiscal year exclusive of schools, library and interest on bonds, under this proposition totals $578,000. The $1.54 tax rate is an increase of two cents over last year.

The following is the Bartlett schedule: General government, reduced from $1 to 94 cents; school fund allowing for increase in teachers' salaries increased from 21 to 35 cents; library increased from 8 to 9 cents; decrease in interest on bonds, from 22 to 18 cents.

"The recommendation was received with the following declarations, by the other councilmen:

Mayor Bartlett: "Ridiculous! We're having a hard time on the dollar rate."

Charles D. Heywood: "If this is a village instead of a city—all right."

E. T. Harms: "If the citizens want dark and dirty streets, let us have a 90-cent rate."

FRESNO SLAYER'S WIFE DISAPPEARS, TRIAL DISCLOSES

FRESNO, Calif., July 9.—When the second day of the Marion Pittman murder trial was half over and Mrs. Pittman failed to appear, rumors were circulated today that the figure of most interest in the case had disappeared.

Defense and State attorneys, when questioned, agreed that Mrs. Pittman, who was talking with Andrew Nicholson when Pittman shot and killed the latter, left Fresno six weeks ago. Her relatives say they do not know her whereabouts.

Miss Janet Nicholson of Oakland, sister of the murdered man, sat near the district attorney.

The defense announced it had letters written to Nicholson by Mrs. Pittman.

WOMAN SEES KILLING

The defense, it is believed, does not intend to call Mrs. Pittman, and it is understood the State can not find her.

Nicholson was shot to death in the kitchen of the Pittman home when Pittman dropped from an attic door into a conversation between his wife and Nicholson.

Pittman fired two shots and as Nicholson fell once more, inflicting a mortal wound.

Pittman went immediately to police headquarters and surrendered, saying as he did so:

"I have just shot a two-legged dog."

WOMEN PLAY PART

In Nicholson's room were found many letters from women, the majority of them dealing with terms of endearment and by their text indicating that the writers were married.

Dozens of photographs of women ranged about the room.

The day after the funeral seven women went long and hysterically at the side of the casket. Five of them returned three times to view the remains. None of them was related to the dead man.

The defense, it is said, will of course invoke the "unwritten law" in an effort to bring about the acquittal of Pittman. And in making this plea effort will be made to show that Nicholson was a homeless home-wrecker who made love to any young woman, married or single, willing to listen to his Lotharian speech.

The prosecution expects to prove that Nicholson was never inspired by any feeling other than that of friendship for Mrs. Pittman and her husband, and that he was actually shot down while making merely a friendly call, and that his memory has been harshly maligned by false stories.

AMERICANS PLAN
ARGENTINE CLUB

Buenos Aires, July 9.—The American Club here of nearly 200 members is trying to lease or buy a home in order to fulfill a long-looked-for plan to build a club house in the Argentine capital. There are a number of English clubs to which some Americans belong, but there is no place where Americans can get together and "talk freely" as one of the promoters put it.

The board of governors point out that it is to be a real American club, and must be the "best" which means a good deal in this city of fashionable clubs, among them a luxurious German club. The organization has a "nest egg" of $20,000 to begin with.

It is proposed to admit women to privileges and make the club a center of all American patriotic activities. The American Club at present holds a weekly luncheon at a hotel when the members listen to addresses by prominent visitors or Argentines.

Burglars Get $6 in

George Nevins is here from Butte, Montana, visiting relatives and friends.

BACK FROM HAWAII

Alfred Cran has returned on the steamer Matsonia from a voyage of nearly three weeks to the Hawaiian Islands as an apprentice seaman. He says Hawaii is even more of a Japanese colony than California, that the climate is as hot as he ever expects to find and that the high cost of clothes doesn't much concern the bathers at Waikiki beach.

Mrs. Rose Mason and daughter, Virginia, returned to Oroville yesterday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Toccalina.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hayes are here from El Paso, Texas.

Mayor T. E. Knox has been confined to his home for several days with poison oak, poisoning contracted while helping in some surveying work at the Pines camp in the mountains.

Officers Installed by San Leandro Lodge

SAN LEANDRO, July 9.—The San Leandro lodge of Odd Fellows, No. 211, met Tuesday evening and installed officers, after which a banquet was served. There were a number of visitors from Hayward and Oakland, and the total attendance was about 100. Judge George Stevens of Oakland was the evening speaker.

Morse Told Divided Court Not Ground For An Appeal

A contention of Commissioner F. P. Morse and City Attorney H. L. Hagan that one of the judges of the District Court of Appeals, having dissented from the decision ordering the reinstatement of Captain of Police Walter J. Peterson on the Oakland police force, the case would go up to the State Supreme court, was upset today by information from the clerk of the Court of Appeals that this is not the case.

The official papers informing Peterson of his right to resume office and directing him so to do will be issued within a short time. After their receipt, it is declared, three days will be given for their recognition. If no case Peterson is denied his office and in consequence of this against Morse and Hagan may follow. Under the constitution of the State, a dissenting vote in a case such as Peterson's until a short time ago would mean its reference to the Supreme court. An amendment to the constitution has altered the import of the document, so that no action may be taken by the higher court unless an appeal is granted. The decision of the two judges becomes final and definite.

Judge Nourse, the one who dissented, did not object to the order to reinstate Peterson, but did hold that when the police captain became chief of police he took a leave of absence and lost his civil service standing. This latter contention of the opponents of Peterson was contained in their demurrer, but not in their argument before the civil service board, and the rest of the court held that its premises were only to review the hearing before the board.

Captain Peterson is still awaiting the arrival of his remittance before demanding his office. He reported for duty today as usual, and was informed that there were no instructions.

PLEA FOR BACK
ALIMONY FINDS
ONLY DEAF EARS

An attempt by the divorced wife of Robert E. Donovan to declare him in contempt of court because he had failed to pay $50 a month alimony as ordered when the final decree was granted in 1917, failed today when Donovan declared he had been away at war and did not know until recently his wife had divorced him. The ex-wife, now known as Miss Grace E. Donovan, admitted she has been self-supporting since her divorce but said that Donovan seemed to have plenty of money for a good time, and though she might have the benefit of the alimony ordered.

RICE MEN FACE
NEW WATER SUIT

MARTINEZ, July 9.—With the consent of Superior Judge R. H. Latimer, Mary Ellen Cortis, owner of more than 2800 acres of land on Sherman Island and the border of Sacramento county, yesterday afternoon filed a complaint in intervention to the action instituted by the town of Antioch against Sacramento valley rice growers and thus became a plaintiff in the suit. The allegations in her complaint, in which she asks that the rice growers be restrained from using so much river water, are virtually the same as in the suit filed by Antioch.

She contends her land is highly productive if water is available, but that if the rice growers are not restrained from using such great quantities of water its value will be diminished.

All the skilled mechanics at the navy yard have been put to work on the cruisers, destroyers and auxiliary ships of the Pacific fleet and as a result the date for the launching of the destroyers Trever and Washington will probably be delayed until some time in August.

DESTROYERS DUE

The destroyers Roper, Slansbury, Swasey and Thornton are to arrive at the navy yard Monday from San Diego to be docked and overhauled.

Tax Argument Too
Taxing; Gulp Tax

RICHMOND, July 9.—Andrew Klatschky, employed in an automobile trimming shop at 109 Broadway avenue, became so excited during a political argument over the tax rate last evening that he swallowed several tacks he had in his mouth. Police Officer Messenger, who passed the shop at the time, rushed the man to the emergency hospital, where Dr. U. S. Abbott removed the tacks from his throat. Klatschky said he would be careful not to mix tacks with politics in future. He feels that he suffered from the points in his own argument.

Knightsen Irrigation
Folk Will Buy Stock

KNIGHTSEN, July 9.—The directors of the Knightsen Irrigation District have made arrangements for the purchase of $800 shares of stock in the East Contra Costa Irrigation company and purchase of the stock will be submitted to voters in the district within a few weeks. UNDERWOOD LAW HITS SHIP ACT

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(By The Associated Press).—Operation of the merchant marine act will bring into force the section of the Underwood tariff law of 1913 imposing a discriminatory duty of 5 per cent on goods entering the United States in foreign bottoms, in the opinion of some diplomats who have studied the new shipping bill.

Application of this section of the Underwood act was suspended by a decision of the supreme court in 1917, because the act provided that discriminatory duty should not apply in conflict with any reserved treaty right. The court held that the section was in conflict with the provision of the treaty of 1915 between the United States and Great Britain.

This treaty, along with similar treaties with a score of other countries, must be abrogated under the section imposing the duty of the merchant marine law.

In the case of the British treaty one year's notice is necessary and consequently no discriminatory duty can be imposed on goods entering the United States in British bottoms until the expiration of that period.

Some diplomats believe that it was the clear intent of Congress to reserve to itself the right to impose the discriminatory duties by future legislation, but they declare that unless such legislation is enacted, before the treaties are abrogated the 5 per cent discriminatory duty imposed by the Underwood law automatically will come into force.

SAVANT BARS
HYSTERIA AS A
WOMAN'S RIGHT

BERKELEY, July 9.—Woman's sole right to hysteria as a pet weapon to use in moments of anger or distress, has been challenged.

For says Dr. Jaime de Angulo, lecturer in anthropology at the University of California summer session, formerly of the University of Paris, men suffer from hysteria more often than do their sisters.

"The idea that hysteria is a woman's disease is incorrect," says Professor de Angulo. "Cases of the cases of shell shock during the war were merely hysteria. The soldier subconsciously did not want to hear the firing of bullets, which was mentally painful to him, so he became at first hysterical and then by converting the mental pain into a physical symptom he became paralyzed or lame."

There are three ways of curing hysteria, according to Professor de Angulo. The first is by hypnosis or by psycho-analysis.

League As Issue Is Dead, Penrose Says

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Senator Boies Penrose today declared that the nomination of Governor Cox by the Democratic party represented a surrender to the "corrupt and disreputable elements of the party."

Among these elements the senator named Tammany. He said that while the Democratic party was full of Wilsonism it nevertheless would "lose the intellectual and reputable group attracted by Wilson."

"The Democratic convention," he said, "was controlled by politicians of the war precinct type."

"I am decidedly of the opinion that the nomination of Governor Cox constitutes a repudiation of the Wilson leadership in the Democratic party. It is very evident that the league of nations is not by any means the big issue in the campaign, and is not a live issue with the American people."

Boy Wants to Abandon Folsom Parents' Name

Robert Paul Jennings, 20, who was given that name when adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jennings, 1901 Adelaide street, in 1907, today petitioned the superior court to be granted permission to resume his former name of Paul Francis Raef. He says his foster parents declared they "were through with him."

Official of Eagles Is Alameda Visitor

ALAMEDA, July 9.—A. R. Duncan, past grand president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Missouri, delegate to the Democratic convention, was the guest of honor at a regular meeting of the Alameda Lodge of Eagles last night. Following the business session an informal reception in honor of the visitor was held.

CITY GETS $100 FROM FINES ON FRUIT SHIPPERS

"I know of no better way to replenish the city exchequer than by collecting fines from men who try to fool deceivers and worry the public," said Judge George Samuels this morning as he enriched the city treasury to the extent of $100.

G. Cuno, an orchardist of Stockton, was the first to contribute. He was arrested by D. P. T. McDonald, deputy horticultural commissioner, on a charge of shipping wormy apricots to the Oakland market. He was fined $50.

H. L. Thomson, a farmer of Vacaville, was accused of selling wormy apples and $50 was charged to him.

Walbey Told to Pay
Wife $250 a Month

R. C. Walbey, a cashier for a San Francisco importing company, living at 6432 Hillebrand avenue, who was recently sued for divorce by Mrs. Teresa M. Walbey, who charged that he neglected her for another woman called "Tottie," was today ordered by Judge Everett Brown to pay his wife $250 a month for the maintenance of herself and child during pendency of the action. The court also issued an order restraining Walbey from disposing of any of his property estimated at $50,000.

After Walbey had declared he was giving his wife $105 a month and placed his own living expenses at $150 a month, Judge Brown commented on the fact that Walbey wanted more for himself than he wanted to give his wife and child and set the figure at the amount Mrs. Walbey declared she needed. Attorney W. H. Clay, counsel for Walbey, protested that $250 a month was more than Mrs. Walbey had been getting and declared it was putting a premium on divorces. The court took no notice of the assertion.

Death Comes to Rail

John D. Nield, resident of the bay section 52 years, died at St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco, following a brief illness. He arrived from Australia in 1868. He was 71 years old and was a member of the Sons of St. George of Oakland and the Sons of St. George of the Pacific Lodge, No. 136, F. and A. M. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alice Athron of San Francisco.

$5000 DAMAGES ASKED

Injuries sustained by Mrs. Frances Mower on January 23, when she tripped over a piece of iron and fell, breaking her nose, wrenching her back and spraining her ankle and wrist, as alleged, are made the basis of a suit for $5000 damages filed today against Daniel and Eugene Dolan, as proprietors of the Dolan Brothers Wrecking Company. It is claimed the firm placed boards across the sidewalk at Hobart and Grove streets, leaving the piece of sheet iron projecting.

MANY DEMAND CITY HOSPITAL

BERKELEY, July 9.—Mayor Louis Bartlett will appear before the Board of Supervisors next week to ask for the establishment of a branch county hospital in Berkeley. The action was authorized this morning by the city council. A building on the city hall grounds, facing McKinley street near Allston Way, will be offered to the supervisors for the purpose. The matter was brought to the attention of the council by Charles D. Heywood, commissioner of public health and safety, who pointed out the wide area including Berkeley, Albany, Thousand Oaks and the so-called "No-Mans Land" where the county provided no hospital facilities.

Taking up the fight for a municipal emergency hospital in Berkeley, the Manufacturers Association of the college city has appointed a committee to investigate the present situation as a result of disclosures attacking the adequacy of service afforded by Roosevelt Hospital.

A report of the committee's findings will be submitted at a meeting of the association next Tuesday evening. According to complaints made at this week's meeting of the manufacturers, persons injured at various plants at the waterfront have either been afforded inadequate care or no care at all. The committee has been asked to make a study of the situation and to make recommendations to the city council for a municipal hospital to be maintained at the Berkeley Dispensary. Other civic organizations are expected to take up the demand for a new hospital adequate to meet the city's needs.

Rancher Protests
False Imprisonment

Hubert J. Harrison, a rancher near Oakland, after spending all night in the city jail as a chicken-thief suspect, launched a vigorous protest today against the action of Patrolman L. S. Rogers, who arrested him.

Harrison had several chickens in a wagon which was constructed for the purpose, with a coop over the rear end of the vehicle. The chickens were his own. He had come to town to deliver them to a merchant.

Patrolman Rogers walked up to him and put him under arrest. Rogers, according to Harrison, refused to let him explain but led him away to jail, where he spent the night. In this morning, when the police had learned his identity, he was released.

YOSEMITE, July 9.—Search for the body of Gertrude Kistler, 13 daughters of Sedgewick Kistler, of Lock Haven, Pa., drowned in the rapids of the Merced river, July 7, still was progressing today. Both sides of the river for the length of the valley are being searched over. Late yesterday afternoon the girl's dress and shirt of H. J. Pink, of Los Angeles, who lost his life by striking his head on a rock in an effort to save the girl, were found in a backwater eddy near where the child was drowned. Efforts to reach Pink's family have failed. The body has been shipped to the Elks' club in Los Angeles.

Today the cause of the derailment has not been determined. The wreck victims, who were riding "blind," have not been identified.

J. BARLEYCORN LIFTS SPECTRE TO TROUBLE COX

By HERBERT W. WALKER
United Press Staff Correspondent.
DAYTON, O., July 9.—The prohibition issue is rapidly coming to the fore in the preliminary plans of the Democrats for the campaign of Governor James M. Cox.
Dry factions, it is apparent from telegrams being received, are bent upon forcing him to declare for the present prohibition laws. Anti-prohibition forces have started a counter-offensive.
No inkling of what W. J. Bryan, with the backing of the Anti-Saloon League, intends to do about the Cox candidacy has been received, but Bryan is the one leading Democrat who has sent no congratulations.
Cox seemingly is not worried over developments. He will reply in a few days to the demand of Richmond P. Hobson that he declare opposition to change in the Volstead law. It is indicated that Cox will say he proposes to enforce the Volstead law as long as it is on the statute books and that any change in its terms can come only through a "damper" Congress.

'MARY MARIE,' SUNSHINE GIRL, STARTS SUNDAY

More than anyone else, Mrs. Porter gives back to us the joy of knowing that this is a beautiful world," says an Eastern reviewer in discussing the new book, "Mary Marie," which will be published in the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, beginning Sunday.
Eleanor H. Porter, besides writing "Pollyanna," is the author of "Dawn," "Oh, Money! Money!" "The Road to Understanding," "Just David," "The Tie That Binds," "The Tangled Threads," and "Across the Years." Of all these "Mary Marie," her last work, has been called her masterpiece.
Four complete chapters of the sunbeam girl story will be printed in Sunday's TRIBUNE.

PLOT TO SLAY WIFE IS LAID TO RICH ATTORNEY

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The name of United States Commissioner Hitt was mentioned in the investigation into the alleged Snow murder conspiracy case here today.

According to Stewart Brown, a witness, Hitt was told of an alleged plot to kill Mrs. Adis H. Snow and offered to tell his story to Henry E. Davis, Mrs. Snow's attorney, for $3000.
How Chester A. Snow, millionaire patent lawyer, 76 years old, plotted with Mrs. Edna P. Acker, private detective and Hugh M. Landon, a chauffeur, first to run and to finally murder his divorced wife, Mrs. Addie Hubbard Snow, and how the plot was revealed to Mrs. Snow in the presence of her lawyer by Mrs. Acker, who telephoned to Snow in their presence, allowing the lawyer to "listen in" while the details were discussed, was told in the testimony of Davis, at the preliminary hearing.

PARTY LEADERS WILL BEND OVER BATTLE CHARTS

MARTON, O., July 9.—Republican leaders arriving at the Harding headquarters today were to begin planning the early work of the party's national campaign. Will Hays, national chairman, and Harry M. Daugherty, pre-convention manager for Harding, came to discuss general political matters with Senator Harding, the nominee.
T. Coleman duPont, national committeeman from Delaware, chairman of the "notifiers," was expected to arrive today to arrange preliminaries for the reception of party spokesmen, July 22.

Among those who were to call on Senator Harding today were Henry L. Stoddard of New York, who attended the recent dinner in New York of prominent Progressive leaders at which a resolution was adopted endorsing the Harding-Coolidge ticket and J. Frank Hanly, former Governor of Indiana, prohibition leader. Stoddard said he came to Marion to assure Senator Harding of the Progressives' support.
"The Roosevelt vote of 1912 is back of Senator Harding," said Stoddard. "I think it is more back of him than it was Mr. Hughes in 1916, both more solidly and more enthusiastically."

G. O. P. IN 1924 IS S. F. SLOGAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—With the promise of active support from many important centers west of the Mississippi, San Francisco already is in the field for the 1924 Republican National convention.

Success of the city with the Democratic convention and publicity resulting therefrom is counted on by Raymond Benjamin, western regional assistant to Will H. Hays, Republican chairman, is now in the East where he has sounded out sentiment in favor of San Francisco.

At the city's annual Democratic convention and that it was one banker, who will not allow his name to be divulged, who saved the situation by telegraphing $200,000 as a story now made public. The committee of Democrats had raised but $15,000 of the $125,000 necessary to guarantee their ability to handle the convention when the demand came for the check for the full amount. The banker, not a Democrat, pledged the fund and saved the situation. All of the money was later raised and the banker and other who aided, repaid.

Chairman of 48'ers Laborer for Reform

CHICAGO, July 9.—J. A. H. Hopkins, chairman of the Committee of Forty-eight which is next week to launch a new political party, founded the committee in January, 1919. Though 47, he is a young looking man. Successful in the insurance business, he retired about a year ago, deciding he would concentrate on his hobby—reforming politics.

Hopkins has been intensely interested in politics for years and when Roosevelt bolted the Republican party in 1912, he trailed along. In 1916, when Roosevelt refused the presidential nomination, Hopkins campaigned for President Wilson. Now he believes there is more need of a new party than when Roosevelt launched the Progressive party.

Hopkins is of a retiring nature. He is seldom interviewed and makes but few statements. He is married and has several children. His home is in Morristown, N. J.

Man, Freed of Charge Made by Auto Concern

Admissions by Mrs. Anna Cremer that S. A. Nixon suggested to her that he might sell the automobile which he had partly purchased from her and then finish his payments, and while she had not given him specific permission to do so had not objected, resulted in a jury last night acquitting Nixon on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Nixon was arrested on the complaint of the Paige Auto Car company when Mrs. Cremer made a demand upon them for the return of her automobile. Nixon settled with Mrs. Cremer after his arrest.

Barrel Campaigns Assailed by McAdoo

NEW YORK, July 9.—William G. McAdoo, speaking at the dinner of the National League of Macine Clubs here last night, said: "There is no menace so great as the corrupt use of money for campaign purposes."

"As secretary of the treasury for six years I know the harm that is done by the misuse of money in this way," he said. "I am not talking about Republicans alone, but Democrats as well, for they all look alike to me when they are guilty of spending money in that manner."

Taft Early Prophet of G. O. P. Triumphs

MONTREAL, July 9.—Former President William Howard Taft issued the following statement here last night:

"I have absolute confidence that the approaching presidential elections will result in the success of the Republican ticket and that we shall have the league of nations with the reservation necessary for the guidance and protection of our country."

SCALP TROUBLES ARE MANY

Specialist Says Different Hair and Scalp Ailments Require Different Treatment

Prof. John H. Austin of Chicago, who now has offices at The Owl Drug Co., has devoted over forty years to the study of hair and scalp troubles. During this time he has found that only with the aid of a most powerful microscope is it possible to determine the exact trouble with which the hair or scalp is afflicted.

People who really value their hair have come to consider a hair specialist as much importance as doctor or dentist, for how can anyone with knowledge or experience distinguish between such scalp disorders as seborrhea, alopecia, seborrhea sicca, alopecia pyrodes, etc.

Prof. Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics, vaseline and kerosene is like taking medicine when you know what you are trying to cure.

Men and women troubled with scalp ailments should see Prof. Austin, let him turn a powerful microscope upon their hair and show them these parasites that destroy the hair cells and roots, and they will be convinced that the particular trouble must be known before each case can be intelligently treated.

During the past two years, at The Owl Drug Co., Prof. Austin has taught thousands of people how to stop falling hair, remove dandruff, relieve itching scalp and grow new hair.

Late Rains Eliminate Water Shortage Fear

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—Before the members of Pacific Rice Growers' Association, banqueting at Hotel Sacramento, State Power Administrator H. G. Butler stated that four months ago it looked as if there would be a 30 per cent power shortage, but that favorable spring weather, late rains and low temperature helped the situation so materially that the shortage had been very much reduced and would not be extremely serious except in case of accident. This, he said, was the situation provided present power conservation practices were continued. Butler was careful to point out to the rice men that strict conservation alone could insure water sufficiently and he admonished all users to hold to the practice of saving every drop of water possible. Only this would result in the situation predicted.

With the single exception of the electric railway lines the rice growers' power load is the heaviest single demand for hydro-electric power in the state. This year the rice load alone will amount to as much as the entire irrigation load of 1918, approximately 30,000 H. P. About 10,000 H. P. is now being developed in the rice district by private parties.

STATE NEWS

FRESNO, July 9.—After her arrest as a delinquent on a complaint sworn to by her mother, Zadel Chalkin, a 13-year-old Hanford girl, told the police that she had run away from her home after her mother had attempted to sell her in marriage to an aged Armenian for $800.

The girl charged her mother with having offered to sell her for eight cows when the cash offer failed. She stated that the parent had sold her 14-year-old sister to a neighbor for $245.

The girl was arrested at the home of D. Kirkorian, 422 South Van Ness avenue, with Karop Taterosian, whom she declares is her husband. Taterosian is charged with kidnapping in a complaint sworn to by the girl's mother, and with embezzlement by a Lemore auto concern.

WOULD RECALL OFFICIAL. SANTA ROSA, July 9.—The recall petition against District Attorney George W. Hoyle has been filed for verification of names. It is signed by 215 voters. The question of whether Hoyle will be recalled will be settled at a primary election August 31.

Hoyle's opponents charge that he is incompetent. The recall movement was started following contention as to the operation of the new county highway engineer act.

LIGHTNING FIRES FOREST. RED BLUFF, July 9.—That sixty forest fires in the national forests from the Tehachapi to the Oregon line were caused by lightning between July 1 and 5, was announced by E. I. Ketch of the United States district forester's staff. All fires were spotted by mountain-top observers, forest rangers or observers in airplanes. All the fires were checked.

NEW YORKERS SEE TREES. SANTA CRUZ, July 9.—Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Charles T. Murphy, Tammany leader, and a party of twelve visited Santa Cruz and the Big Trees on their way to Del Monte from the Democratic national convention at San Francisco.

ROBS TO SAVE SON. FAIRFIELD, July 9.—Declaring she was forced to commit robbery to shield her son, Mrs. Flora Richards, held for the robbery of the Peter Cook home at Rio Vista, April 1, was bound over by Judge O'Donoghue to the superior court for sanity tests. The hearing is set for September 10.

Mrs. Richards, who was housekeeper for Peter Cook, said she was told by members of a house-breaking gang that her son had committed a crime and would be exposed if she did not assist in the robbery. She then joined a secret society, she told the court.

VICE WAR BEGINS. MARYSVILLE, July 9.—Declaring that he would make a thorough cleanup of vice in the city of Marysville, Attorney Rey Maxwell stated that special detectives hired by the attorney would in the past month have arrested the vice gang and obtained evidence that had resulted in the arrest of several members of the gang. Maxwell stated that the vice gang were discovered in the houses of the city and were up with the vice gang of the city grand jury as well as the inquisitorial body called together.

MRS. ROBERT LOCKHART (Edith Horstman), whose wedding a week ago was a notable affair.

Landers Redmans Hosts to Guests From Southland

Mrs. Stephen Childs and her children, Aaro and Emilie, have arrived from the South to spend the summer with the Landers Redmans at their Piedmont home. Mrs. Childs, Mrs. Redman's sister, is a native of one of the show places in Pasadena, where the family has been a factor in the upbuilding of the land that grew up in the path of the padres.

The visitors have hosts of friends about the bay, where they are quite as much at home as in their southern rendezvous.

Mrs. Frances Redman returned a day or two ago from a motor trip to Angels Camp—immortalized in the annals of California's Days of Gold by Earl Harris—where she was the guest of her grandmother and grandfather, the Alexander Chalmers of Piedmont.

Mr. Chalmers, for many years the moving spirit of one of the famous old mines on the ledge, is again interested in the further development of the property.

The country, rich in historic lore and in interesting types, made colorful vacationing for the Piedmont family. The party, by other young folk, went on to the Calaveras Big Trees.

McLEAN-ODDEN

One hundred guests will assemble this evening at the home of Mrs. McLean Odden to witness the wedding of Miss Mary Christine McLean and Robert Clarence Odden.

Four bridesmaids will attend the bride: Misses Margaret, Edith and Flora, with Miss Elizabeth the maid of honor.

The bride will wear a short white tulle gown with a tulle veil forming the train.

Jeffrey Banks of Odden will be best man.

Several guests will go over from this side, including the Russell Van Horn Coopers, Mrs. George Field, Mrs. Samuel S. Shepard, M. E. Miller and Miss Field.

On Wednesday Mrs. Shepard was hostess at a luncheon and bridge at home in honor of the bride and her bridesmaids.

The young folk will establish themselves across the bay, where the groom has taken his place among the L. C. men to have gone into the practice of law. They are located near the McLean home, in the scenic West Clay park.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

"Not matter, Meeds Graham?" she said with alarm in her voice, as she came down the stairs. "You vite—run sheet. You dot man say? He vant to rob you? He hurt you?" I pulled myself together with an effort. This was to way to face an emergency. I thought with grim contempt for my own tremors.

"No, indeed, Katie," I said, springing to my feet. "The man was only a troublesome book agent. I soon got rid of him but I guess the heat has affected me. I felt a little dizzy all of a sudden."

"Dot cake," Katie exclaimed in remembrance. "Dot kitchen too hot for you. I bought tea table in dining room."

"What nonsense!" I exclaimed. "I shall be all right in a moment. But will you please look after my cake? must do some telephoning right away."

For I knew that I must find out at once if possible the names of the associates of Horace Kent, the eminent attorney engaged for the defense of Kenneth Stockbridge.

Katie gave one of her infectious chuckles.

"You tink happen to dot cake yet?" Katie asked, her face and eyes shining with the consciousness of duty performed. "I go nie down, vatch dot cake soon as you come talk to dot man. Dot cake sh be all right. I take heem out soon as she nice brow."

"All right, Katie," I said gratefully, for I feared that I might have no time to bestow upon Junger's birthday cake. "I'll leave the cake in your hands."

"I feel, all right, all right," Katie called cheerfully, and as I walked to the telephone I envied her volatile spirits.

Alice Holcombe! The thought of her had come to me as soon as I had seen the necessity of checking up the affairs of Kenneth Stockbridge. She was the only person in all Bayview of whom I dared ask a question concerning the principal. I would have gone directly to a Kent's office in New York, but I had read in the newspaper that he had taken a trip out of the city, would not be back for another week, and I felt that never could wait that long.

There is no telephone in Alice Holcombe's home, but one can reach her through an accommodating neighbor. The cheery, somewhat piping voice of this woman came to me in answer to my call.

AN ANXIOUS WAIT

"Miss Holcombe! Alice Holcombe? Sure, I'll call her over! But, come to think of it, I don't think she's home this morning. Ally ain't. Leastways, I saw her going out of the house last night with a suitcase, but she was just taking some dresses to the cleaners. She does that often, though. I tell her it's awful extravagant, that she could just as well do it at home. But I'll go over anyway and come back and tell you."

"Thank you, so much," I responded fervently, realizing with greater force than ever what Alice Holcombe had meant when she said that she dared not stay at home the night after Miss Stockbridge's death, because of the gossip of the neighbors. Evidently in the village of Bayview there was no possibility of the least hand concealing anything from the right.

I held the phone rigidly to my ear, hoping against hope that the woman was mistaken, and that I would hear Alice's voice presently. But it was the woman's falsetto which greeted me a few minutes later.

MESSAGE FOR ALICE HOLCOMBE

"I'm awful sorry," she piped, "but Ally's gone down to Patchogue for her cousin's on her father's side. Her father's brother's oldest girl is married and lives down there. She has two children that Ally's just crazy over, you know there's nobody spoils the way an old maid's maid; leastways, that's what my I tell my husband—his sister lives with us, there no livin' with the kids when she's around."

"Can you tell me when Miss Holcombe will be back?" I had the question ready upon a hair trigger, shot it into the phone at the first pause for breath upon the part of the woman at the other end of the wire.

"Why? Her mother said she thought she would come in on the train tomorrow afternoon, gets in here about 5 o'clock. There's later trains, but Ally's awful particular about staying up too late when she's got school on hand the next day. She's funny that way, Ally is, but she's an awful fine girl. I always say to my husband—shut that door, and if you don't stop teasing the cat I'll skin you alive."

The terrifying threat startled me for a moment, so explosive was it. I almost looked around for the neglected door and the cat I was supposed to be teasing, then seized the opportunity to cut short the woman's voluble apology for "them dratted kids of mine," which she said it be possible for you to give a message to Miss Holcombe as soon as she comes in tomorrow."

"Oh, sure!" with cordial heartiness. "Glad to do anything to oblige Ally or any friend of hers."

"Thank you. Will you please ask her to call Mrs. Graham of Marvin as soon as she gets home? Tell her it is very important. She knows the telephone number."

"Oh, yes, Miss Graham! I'll watch out for her the minute she comes in, and tell her right away. This is the school ma'am, Miss Graham, ain't it? I've heard tell a lot about you."

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children, too.

THE WATER POWER LAW.

After many decades of divided authority, the United States government has been authorized by the recently enacted water power development law to combine the control of the water resources and put them under the administration of a single federal commission. By the new law all water power and resources over which the federal government exercises control will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Water Power Commission, composed of the Secretaries of the Interior, War and Agriculture.

This ought to mean, and it is expected to mean, avoidance of present duplication; that a common policy will be pursued and that the combined efforts of the three departments will be directed toward a constructive program for the development, utilization and preservation of the water power resources. Certainly this is what the country desires. Congress has enacted a law making it easily possible and the departments charged with the responsibility of bringing about the desired change will have no excuse for not meeting expectations.

Up to the present three departments—War, Agriculture and the Interior—have divided control over the water powers in each district. Water power on navigable rivers had to be administered by the War Department. For each development a special act of Congress was necessary and a water power site on a navigable river was subject to the restrictions of the general dam act. Water sources and water power on the public lands have been under the control of the Department of the Interior, and subject to the national homestead or mining laws. The policy of the Department of the Interior has been to prevent water power development, or development of any other natural resources, and during the last fifteen years large tracts of land have been withdrawn from public entry in order to prevent exploitation of the natural power resources.

Under the new act of Congress, licenses for power development will run for fifty years. The federal commission will fix the amount the licensee will pay for the use of the water power and the price of the power to the consumer is to be fixed jointly by the commission and the State commission, or if a State agency does not exist, exclusively by the federal commission. At the expiration of a license the United States retains the right to take over and thereafter maintain and operate the property upon payment of an amount which shall in no case exceed the original cost and which, on account of amortizing original cost out of net earnings, may be considerably less than original cost.

These and the various other provisions seemed to be admirably designed to protect the public interest and at the same time to encourage the development of water power by private capital. It is estimated that not more than 50,000,000 horsepower of electric energy is now utilized in the country. Engineers who have examined the situation are confident that the amount available may easily be doubled by water power plants and that it is not unreasonable to expect that within a few decades the amount of electric energy produced will be in excess of 200,000,000 horsepower.

The largest new utilization of electric power will be on the railroads, where electric motive power will take the place of steam, now making such heavy demands upon coal and petroleum. Increasing costs of producing coal and oil has made the cost of steam gradually rise until all large railroad systems are considering electrification wherever this is possible. The peak of oil production apparently has been reached in the United States. Cheaply produced electric power will be in demand in industry and transportation wherever it is available and applicable.

Plainly it is of the utmost importance that a workable plan be formulated for the administration of the new water power law, one that will attract private capital instead of discouraging and repelling it.

JUSTICE EMBARRASSED

Disappearance from the offices of the police department or the District Attorney of evidence needed in the trial of persons charged with violating the laws is a serious matter. It is something that cannot be condoned or excused. Only negligence, stupidity or downright crookedness can be offered in explanation of the scandal. Those responsible for it can take their choice of explanations.

Recently the public has been regaled with the exposure of corrupt conditions in the police department and police courts of San Francisco, where bail bond brokers have debauched justice. We expressed sympathy with San Francisco and the hope that all the offenders be punished and a long-standing disgrace be cleared away.

Sympathy in no less measure should be felt for the citizens of Oakland when public officials are just as remiss in the performance of their duty as those of a neighboring city. From such negligence, or failures or faithlessness grow scandalous conditions that shame a community.

YAP AND THE CABLES.

Despite previous assertions to the contrary, the United States did acquire sovereignty over new territory by the treaty of Versailles. It got control of the Island of Yap in the Pacific ocean. Yet this island is of absolutely no importance so far as the extent of territory is concerned and the few inhabitants which may come under the jurisdiction of American government cannot possibly have their condition adversely affected by the new order. On the other hand the acquisition of this land by the United States ought to mean very large benefit to all the peoples and their governments in the Pacific area.

Yap as a link in the system of cable communication between the United States on the one side and the Philippines, Dutch East Indies, China and Japan on the other, is inferior only to that of Guam. Yap lies between the United States possessions of Guam and the Philippines. One of the three cables landing at Yap comes from Guam. Further, Yap is important to the cable service between America and the Far East because the cables landing there have been, and ought to be again, alternate routes of cable communication between America and all the Oriental countries. German-owned cables were relied on to provide alternate routes through the dangerous waters west of Guam. Should the Guam-Manila cable be broken, messages for the Philippines and China can circulate via Guam-Yap-Shanghai. If the Guam-Tokyo, the Guam-Manila and the Yap-Shanghai cables were all broken, communication via Guam-Yap and Yap-Jenado would still remain to reach the network of cables connecting with the Dutch East Indies through Singapore, with Hongkong and China.

The Guam-Yap-Manila line is a direct line to the Dutch East Indies. Guam, being already United States territory, with Yap in the possession of or under the control of the United States, there would be a direct American cable line to the Dutch East Indies independent of any foreign control whatever.

By taking over this small plot of ground for use in extending and maintaining facilities for communication among the peoples in and on each side of the Pacific ocean the government is planning to advance knowledge and bring a larger measure of assurance to Pacific tranquility. It will mean financial profit to no one but will enable more efficient spreading of information from day to day. And by addition to the cable systems in the Far East it will improve the plans of the United States government to maintain peace and to take prompt and effective steps should peace be threatened.

If it were necessary to defend the policy of territorial expansion consideration of Yap would not be worth while, but since it was taken over for an altogether different purpose, it is consoling to the American people to know that that purpose is to aid others in a large degree.

Secretary of the Treasury Houston announces that the United States government will have an unofficial representative at the international financial conference which is to be held in Brussels July 23 under the auspices of the League of Nations. This is entirely proper, although it is to be regretted that the American delegate cannot have an official status. The conference promises to be of very large importance and this country should be authoritatively informed as to the nature of the discussions and the decisions reached, if nothing else.

LUXURIES AND WASTE.

The national bill for luxuries set forth by the Secretary of the Treasury is calculated to make the "drinks" list that also to be added to the list of luxuries. The list of luxuries that amounted to a billion and a half of two billions, and as we believe that covered a lot of waste as well as a whole lot of luxury. The list of luxuries that amounted to a billion and a half of two billions, and as we believe that covered a lot of waste as well as a whole lot of luxury.

Not nearly all of these luxuries are indulgences of the appetites. They include good clothes and expenditures in travel and a couple of billions for automobiles, and three-quarters of one per cent of that list item for works of art, and books. They are not mentioned, as a because the item is too small to be visible. It is what is called in economic analyses "a trace." But tobacco, "soft drinks," "cereal beverages," perfumery, cosmetics, fancy soaps, make the drink bill of previous years look contemptible.

The notion used to be that if people did not spend their nickels for beer, their dimes and quarters for distilled spirits and their dollars for champagne they would put the money in the savings bank or invest it in valuable commercial enterprises. But they do nothing of the sort. They go to "movies" and buy "near beer" and not very near either, and eat candy and smoke cigarettes. As a matter of political economy the closing of the bars has negligible results. Thrift has not sprung up and blossomed all over the country. We "have the price" and we get as much pleasure as the law allows and spend money on our appetites and general enjoyment more lavishly than ever.—New York Journal of Commerce.

NOTES and COMMENT

The formal assurance that the whole Taft family will be active in behalf of the Republican candidate again illustrates William H. as a cheerful loser. Had he been guilty over the acknowledged rough usage the Republican party dealt him in 1912, that spirit would be reflected now in the family attitude. As it is, the members are all hearty, including the branch that owns a big Cincinnati newspaper.

The amenities in Ohio, as exemplified between the presidential candidates, are so far admirable. It is illustrative of a human trait that there are those who hope they will get out of the campaign. There is a general realization that conditions are favorable for a hot contest in the home State. An Alphonse-and-Gaston campaign would waste the energy of those looking for entertainment.

"Congressman Kahn to ask for re-election." All he will have to do, it would seem, will be to ask. It is so much to the interest of California to keep her able men on guard that there can hardly be a question about the re-election of Kahn.

The nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt was apparently induced by the belief that a great name could be thus utilized as a Democratic asset. The geographical and otherwise logical candidate was Meredith of Iowa. The selection is of one with the Roosevelt name, but far removed in kinship and characteristics from the Roosevelt who made the name famous.

It may not be much of a surprise that the first unit of the new third party has been organized in Merced county, which is right up against Fresno. In fact, the despatch giving the news is dated from Chesterville, where the ground for some time has been under preparation for such a crop.

It is stated that Gavin McNab "is in right with the Cox forces, for he voted Cox from the beginning to the end." It was not expected by anybody who enjoys his acquaintance that he would be found wandering around as a political maverick.

There was nothing thrilling or epoch-making in the recent convention, but there seems to be a great satisfaction all around, both as to the personal experience of delegates and as to the general outcome. The satisfaction extends even to those in political dissent.

Children show great ingenuity in overtaking accidents, but the Deaver kid who swallowed a firecracker seems to be out in the lead. It is not generally considered necessary to swallow firecrackers to evince a patriotic spirit, however necessary it may seem that they figure in natal days.

Attorney-General Palmer is certainly out and injured. He was helped by his party, and now a Chicago lawyer charges that he used his office to further his chances for the nomination. This may be difficult to prove but what is manifest is the peril that beset some upon whom the bug abides.

States north and south which heretofore have been indifferent to not hostile to suffrage appear to be coming to get their first and their sixth State to approve the nineteenth amendment. Such action, it appears to be considered, will be a political asset. But a court action has been commenced to head off suffrage altogether. It cannot succeed, one would suppose, but it may nullify the action of the thirty-sixth State as a political move.

A scolding-up by the Redding Southlight. "The Democratic convention might have amounted to something but for Bryan. He is the three-ring circus that covers himself with glory and covers the others with shame."

Clipped from the July issue of the Sacramento River created as the person organ of Mr. Hoover. "We don't know if he is the right sort, but we know that he is the right sort, and we know that he is the right sort, and we know that he is the right sort."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

At 11:30 a.m. about eight o'clock last night from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by his son, Theodore, Parson, with his sons, Clyde and Jr., and Theodore, aged 10, was driving in a wagon near their home, when Theodore saw a rabbit hop out of the bush. He hastily picked up a gun and in the wagon to shoot the rabbit. In some manner the gun was discharged and the charge struck Parson in the leg, just below the knee, shattering the bone and resulting in death.—San Luis Obispo Tribune.

Talk about a steam roller! That Republican convention of 1908, and one of 1912, were mere amateur performances compared with the gutted Democrats at San Francisco. Steam roller is nowhere! Bryan, Reed and some others must feel as though that old wire press at the peak had been in active use—California Prospect.

In both the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, people who work in the summer time must not only dress the part but in their eating must avoid certain heating foods, if they will keep on in the even tenor of their ways and not be gathered to their fathers.—Hanford Sentinel.

Bryan may not get the votes but he has the respect and admiration which always go out to the man who is willing to make a fight for his convictions. The world needs more of such who will not compromise, even though they may be mistaken.—Sacramento Union.

BIG TIES UP SHIPMENTS.

On account of the outlaw strike on the railroads and resultant cessation of the toledo, a little sea bug, and ties beneath warehouses in the refinery districts, no California-Hawauan refinery has placed a limit on sugar shipments from Hawaii of 50,000 tons a month. The railroad strike caused refined sugar to pile up in most of the available warehouse space at the coast terminal, it being found impossible to send it out promptly. Other warehouse space was sought and there was lots of it to be had, but the toledo has put practically every warehouse in the neighborhood of Crockett out of commission. At quite a number of these warehouses the toledo has eaten through all of the piles and the warehouses have started out to sea, only being stopped and towed back by tug sent out for that purpose. Ever before, it is said, has this pest been so destructive as this year.—Honolulu Star.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Dropsy—What It Really Is—Many Very Different Kinds

By Dr. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

Popular medical fallacies often long keep ahead of the truth. There are many persons who still live in the days of the language they use, to wit, "biliousness," "malaria," "nervousness," "neurasthenia," "rheumatism," "too much acid in the blood," "auto-intoxication," and so on to the end of a warm-out household vocabulary. Dropsy is one of these antiquated words of modern use. Dropsy or "edema" as highbrows term it, is a problem present in many physiological disorders. It is not an accurate, clean-cut single malady. When a professor in a woman's university requests in a letter a cure for dropsy and "rheumatism," pathologists tear their hair in despair. If a university professor is so linguistically antiquated, so unbreast of the real facts, so careless of analysis of words as that, then there is balm in Gilead for plain mortals who do no worse.

Dropsy means that a watery fluid or lymph has left its accustomed channels to become a reservoir of water on the knee, in the ankles, legs, abdomen or elsewhere. The victim is for the time water-logged or "drained in spots."

Dropsy occurs as a sign in cirrhosis of the liver, kidney interference, disorganized or uncompensated heart valves or muscles when the customary channels for the passage of blood, lymph, kidney fluids, perspiration, bile or spinal fluid are choked up.

"Water on the brain" or hydrocephalus is a form of dropsy. A huge abdomen, when tumors or other irritants are present, may be dropsical. Scurvy and beri-beri are often associated with dropsy. When certain animals are fed diets with only carrots as a source of protein many of them develop dropsy. You will justly conclude from this that the cure for dropsy depends for a cure upon the discovery of their source and removal. To ask your physician "to cure you of dropsy" is about as bad as to ask for "a cure for rheumatism."

THE NEW EDEN.

I went over to Baltimore to speak to a Methodist conference some time ago. I met there a splendid looking man with a long, flowing, white beard, and I said to him, "Do you preach in this section of the country?" He said, "Yes, sir; I come from the eastern shore of Maryland. Have you ever been on the eastern shore?"

I said, "No; I am sorry to say that I have seen every other beauty spot in this country, I believe, but I never have seen that."

"Well," he said to me, "we love that country. I have been preaching there for sixty-six years. We are a strange people and we have some strange legends, and one of them is that Adam and Eve lived in the Garden of Eden, they fell sick, and the Lord was very much disturbed about them, and he called a council of his angels and wanted to know where they should be taken for a change of air, so that they might improve."

"The angel Gabriel suggested that they should be taken to the eastern shore of Maryland, and the Lord said, 'No, no, that would not be sufficient change.'—Franklin K. Lane in the National Geographic Magazine.

$5000 WILL BE ASKED TO BUILD BAY FARM ROAD

For the building of a road from Bay Farm Island to San Leandro, Alameda county supervisors will be asked to include an appropriation of $50,000 in their 1920-1921 budget. The new road, it is claimed, will relieve congestion on East Fourteenth street in Oakland and will make it possible for many automobiles to use the Alameda ferries in going from San Francisco to San Leandro.

In Alameda the city planning commission is interested in the plan and has planned to have the old road, west of Webster street, rebuilt to the Alameda mole. Automobile traffic from across the bay would thus be directed through Alameda to the new Bay Farm Island county road. It is also pointed out in Alameda that the close to a half hour.

DON'T EVER
MARRY

MARRY INSIDE PROFESSION, IS JOLSON'S ADVICE

"Being married to you hurts my popularity as a matinee idol and chases away the beautiful dolls. Actors should never marry. Outside of my hunk wine, women and racehorses, I am a regular husband."

When Al Jolson, noted blackface comedian and former Oakland actor, gave his wife an earful of such sentiments during their sojourn in New York, he laid the foundation for the final decree of divorce, which was granted yesterday to Mrs. Henrietta Jolson of 430 East Fourteenth street, by Judge J. J. Trabucco in the Alameda county superior court.

Rumors to the effect that on his visit to this city two months ago, when he saw his wife frequently, a reconciliation had been effected were set at naught by the final decree, which grants Mrs. Jolson $16,000 in cash, $7000 in liberty bonds and a home valued at $7500.

Mrs. Jolson was granted her interlocutory decree in July, 1919, at which time she asked for $2000 a month alimony stating that her husband made $3000 a week and demanded part of a $200,000 estate. Under the terms of the decree, she receives also the home at 430 East Fourteenth street, its contents and an automobile. In her complaint she charged cruelty, declaring that while they were living in New York, Jolson came home inebriated at early hours in the morning and refused to be seen on the street with her, because

It would hurt him with the "pretty girls to whom he was a matinee idol."

The Jolsons started life on $50 a week, when Al was playing a small part in a theater here. Their troubles did not begin until Jolson became famous and popular with women, Mrs. Jolson alleged.

Jolson now advises single folk to marry inside the profession only. Mrs. Jolson was formerly Henrietta Keller, daughter of Conrad Keller, a local sea captain. Suit for a divorce was filed June 25, 1919. The actor, held in the east by his contract, made the long-distance wires hot with pleas for forgiveness, and even sent his secretary here, but to no avail. When the actors' strike came on, Jolson went to Los Angeles and there met Mrs. Jolson, when it was rumored that they had become reconciled. The interlocutory decree was given, however, and Mrs. Jolson awarded $38,000 in money and real estate.

Men know a good cup of coffee when they taste it. Women know how much its success is due to the milk or cream with which it is served. Give your husband coffee served with the rich, creamy milk from famous dairying sections of the country. See how enthusiastically he will say, "Well, this coffee's something like it!"

Your grocer can supply you. Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago

In serving Libby's Evaporated Milk with coffee, there is a tendency to use more than is necessary. Because of its unusual richness it sinks to the bottom of the cup and therefore does not color your coffee quickly unless you stir it while pouring.

EVERYTHING will be yours," said he, "to enjoy without worry. The business end of it is up to the bank. It is your trustee and its officers are your confidential advisers. Treat them as such and don't hesitate to take your problems and plans to them. They will take care of the investments, pay you your income and send you regular statements. They will attend to all business affairs and court matters. So you see your income will be as safe and as steady as I could have made it and you need have no anxiety about it."

Thus spoke the practical man who believed in preparedness and who allowed no weak sentiment to prevent him from making clear those things upon which his wife's future depended.

RED BLUFF, July 9.—The offices and printing plant of the Red Bluff Sentinel, local daily newspaper, were destroyed by fire last night. Only hard work by regular and volunteer firemen prevented the spread of the flames. No estimate of the damage has yet been made.

KITTEN HOLDS UP BIG CITY TRAFFIC

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—At the hour when the traffic stream was at its flood last night at Tenth street and Baltimore avenue a motor car driven by a woman halted in mid-street. The woman alighted and groped unsuccessfully for a tiny black kitten, which had taken refuge beneath the car. The arteries of traffic were clogged. Pedestrians waited the outcome while a czar of traffic held his hand aloft and then went to assist the woman. Two newsboys volunteered their aid and while a line of jitneys stalled on the belt line, clamored for the right of way, the cause of delay crept forward between the front wheels. The woman, consoled, edged nearer and one of her gloved hands dashed forward, returning with a ball of grease from the axle. The patrolman threatened the cat with arrest and the newsboys prepared to wriggle beneath the car. One of them dived, had the cat in his grasp, but it eluded him. The woman's gloves were ruined, the cat's face was red, but the cat's face persisted. One of them fell forward, nearly smothering the escaped pet, which he returned to the driver of the car. She put her car in gear and started. Traffic awoke. The crowd dispersed and passed on. In the foremost car the black kitten licked its fur, making a demure toilet. If you see it in The TRIBUNE, tell them so.

Ireland Police Refuse to Make Any Political Raids

DUBLIN, July 9.—"A police revolt" was reported from County Kerry today. Members of the royal Irish constabulary were said to have disobeyed orders to make political raids and conduct searches. Policemen attached to the Killarney and Cahirevee barracks refused to perform any but ordinary police duties and declare they would not "associate with soldiers in dirty work," according to reports received here. The "revolting" constables originally intended to resign in a body, but delayed action pending a conference with the authorities. Several liaison officers of the constabulary addressed the dissatisfied men and asked them to state their complaints.

A constable named McNamee was chosen spokesman for the insurgents and he informed the officers that the constables would not cooperate with soldiers. He said that soldiers might be shot if they attempted to force their way into the constabulary barracks. He declared further that the constables would not bear arms and that they would not conduct raids. The inspector-general ordered McNamee's arrest, but another constable stepped forward and drew his revolver, shouting that he would kill if you see it in The TRIBUNE, tell them so.

WARING IS GIVEN. The Sinn Fein Executive in Cork has circulated among the Cork merchants a circular warning not to furnish in come tax information, adding: "Any breach of this order will be severely dealt with."

The situation in the west and south is so serious owing to the stoppage of trains that many towns are adopting a rationing system as a precaution.

The Sinn Fein news bureau asserts that British troops were sent especially to Cashel to remove decorations put up for the occasion of the visit of Archbishop Hannan of San Francisco and Bishop Cantwell of Los Angeles. The news agency adds that the protesters in addressing the people congratulated them on the "brilliant fight Ireland is making" and prayed that "Ireland soon would attain her freedom."

THREE INDICTED IN POISON QUIZ

John De Vries, inspector for the State Board of pharmacy, who rendered himself today following two indictments in San Francisco last night, has been brought to Oakland to appear as a witness in the drug cases now being heard. De Vries was indicted jointly with Emile Coret, inspector for the State board of pharmacy, and Mrs. M. Anderson, a co-worker in charges of grand larceny and embezzlement in making away with narcotics belonging to Sam Morlen, a drug peddler, alleged to be worth $12,500. De Vries was recently arrested by De Vries and Coret. He confessed to being a drug peddler. He was a witness before the grand jury last night. It is understood that he declared that he had found money for protection. Bonds for De Vries were set at $10,000 or $20,000 cash, on crimestment and grand larceny charges with an additional bond of $2,000 on a perjury charge. Bonds for Coret and Mrs. Anderson were fixed at $10,000 or $20,000 cash. Charges against the three grew out of an inquiry into reports that the trio had trafficked in narcotics.

Red Pepper Blamed by Slayer at Trial

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—Red pepper sprinkled in the shoes of David Clifton, a negro, caused him to sneeze so violently that he was driven temporarily insane and killed Henry Smith, the negro who distributed the pungent substance, according to evidence submitted by the defense in court here. Smith is alleged to have placed the pepper, which proved disastrously offensive to Clifton's nostrils, because he believed it would dispel a "hoo-doo" which his companion had caused to come upon him. The case will go to the jury today.

State Property, Sold By Error, Redeemed

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—County officials today refunded $200 to a woman who recently bid in for that sum at a tax auction sale the site of the state hospital for the insane at Norwalk, near here. The explanation was made that the property had been bought by the state shortly after it had become delinquent for unpaid taxes and never had been registered as exempt.

Woman Charged With Theft to Be Freed

That Mrs. Lillian Gale, 17-year-old wife of a former Alcatraz soldier guard, of 916 Forty-fifth street, will be freed from the charge of stealing $16 worth of goods from a local department store in order that she may go to her husband, who has been sent to Camp Lewis, Wash., was the opinion of police authorities here, who said she had paid for the property.

Battle Halts For Baby Star's Custody

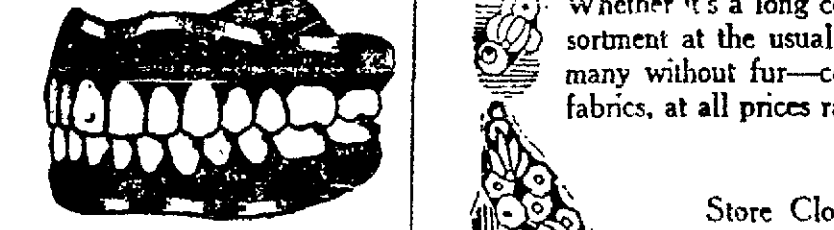

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—When attorneys told Superior Judge Stephens today that they believed some of the differences between Leon Osborne and his wife might be settled out of court, a continuance of two weeks case, which involves possession of "Baby" Marie Osborne, child movie actress, was granted. The case is to come up again Monday.

Police Jail Men Who Think Station Garage

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Two men early today mistook the University Police Station for a garage and roused the policemen with calls of "Service, service." They were held on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. They gave their names as E. R. Williams and N. W. Jenkins.

JOB FOR 244,000 FOUND BY STATE

The report of the activities of the Public Employment Bureau of the State of California for the fiscal year closed June 30, just made public, shows placements to the number of 244,364, as compared with 245,918 for the previous year. Placements of men decreased slightly, while those of women made a slight increase. In the city of Oakland, 32,063 positions were filled by the bureau, 24,161 of which were men and 8,902 women. During that period wages in unskilled lines, for men, have advanced from an average of $3.50 to $8, as quoted at the employment agency. Wages in clerical positions for women have advanced, though not so markedly as for men in corresponding positions. Domestic service has advanced from $3.00 to $7.50 per month, while women stenographers now receive from $100 to $175 as compared with $75 to $100 one year ago. Five hundred men and one-third that number of women are daily applying for positions at the agencies at this time, about all of whom are placed. With this Mrs. Fowler, manager of the Oakland office, believes there are several hundreds of idle men in the city, principally of the unskilled and flower class. The shipyards today need 125 hours-up and helpers.

BOTH AT FAULT; DIVORCE DENIED

Neither the objections of a husband to his wife kissing other men, nor the tears of the wife who said that her spouse, Lawrence De Luchi, of 354 Sixty-first street, had threatened to cast a spell over her so that she would die, moved Superior Judge T. W. Harris to grant a divorce to Mrs. Kattie De Luchi or to De Luchi in the superior court.

The quarrels over miscellaneous "kissing bees" in which Mrs. De Luchi is said to have indulged with several men, including Major Baker, a United States health service, and with Attorney A. Farnworth and others, resulted in the separation of the pair last Christmas, but the divorce suit came to trial only yesterday.

De Luchi is a man who is a "hard old thing," always taking the joy out of life.

Mrs. De Luchi admitted that she kissed Major Baker, but said that the kiss was merely one soul bidding another goodbye. Her husband admitted the occurrence. De Luchi admitted he knew it, but refused to relinquish it.

"COMMUNIZED" KISSING.
Attorney A. Farnworth testified that he was a friend of the family and that he liked to kiss Mrs. De Luchi. There were several intimate friends who gathered frequently at the De Luchi home and communized kissing. It proved successful and no one objected except an occasional absent husband or so who would arrive unexpectantly. Farnworth declared.

Mrs. De Luchi charged that her husband demanded that she take oath on the Bible that she had been true to him and that when she had solemnly sworn by all the kisses she had received or expected to receive that she was innocent, he brutally called her a liar.

Judge Harris said the testimony showed that both parties were at fault and therefore neither was entitled to a decree.

When found the boy was trudging along the road to Bay Point on his way to a job in the shipyards. Healy told him of the condition of his mother, who is suffering from a nervous breakdown and the boy promised to return to his home at once.

Who Says Rupture Cannot Be Cured?

A Friend Advises Fong Wan Herb Co. Patient Is Cured
Oakland, Calif.
July 1, 1920.

I suffered from Rupture, Swollen Stomach and Constipation. The pain was like bolts in the severity. For months I was unable to work or even bend over. I was treated by many doctors all of whom agreed that there was no cure for me outside of an operation. I then consulted a physician who is an old friend. He told me that although he could not cure me, it was possible that some man might be able to cure my case without an operation. I had heard of the wonderful cures made by the Fong Wan Herb Co. for my swollen stomach. After having drunk the tea for a few days, my stomach was so greatly improved that I began to take specially prepared herbs for my rupture also. To my great joy they "did the work." I drank the herbs for two months altogether. All my complaints are now gone and I get along nicely without a truss.

Before taking the herbs I consulted with some friends as to the advisability of taking them for rupture. They all laughed at me and insisted that an operation was my only hope. Now, what can they say? The laugh is on my side. I have been strong and the pain and expense of an operation, and having spent but a small sum am strong and well. I am astonished by the results and am every day with heavy lifting. My case is but one among many. I have many others who have been cured of rupture by the marvelous Fong Wan Herb Co.

Cazet Leaves to Probe Orphan Fund

Leon Cazet, president of the French Chamber of Commerce of Alameda County, and officer in charge of the funds collected on behalf of French orphans, leaves for France July 23, to conduct an investigation into conditions of affairs connected with the transfer of funds. The local French colony adopted 1800 war orphans. It is alleged that the children are not receiving the benefit of the rate of exchange between the two countries at the present time. Cazet is determined to find out where the trouble is. Whereas the American dollar is now rated at 11 francs and 65 centimes, the French Orphan Fund custodians are receiving the pre-war rate of 5 francs, 25 centimes, according to officials of the fund. Nine custodians and three children will accompany Cazet, who expects to remain abroad indefinitely. The children will be placed in Paris schools. The family has made itself responsible for eight orphans whose fathers were killed in action.

Irene Rich, of Films, Is Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Lieutenant-Colonel Charles Henry Rich had an obsession that his wife, Irene Rich, film star, did not love him, testified Mrs. Rich in Judge Shank's court and obtained a decree of divorce. Every time she looked at another man her husband became angry, she said, and frequently declared "he would not share her kisses with any man."

The Colonel's alleged obsession led him to challenge Major J. W. Hanner, at that time stationed at the Presidio in San Francisco, she said, and produced a letter Colonel Rich is alleged to have written Major Hanner. Reply to this challenge was also in evidence. It called the Colonel's challenge "an uncalculated bluster and founded only on the Colonel's own obsession of wrongdoing that did not exist."

GOVERNOR BROUGH PLEADS FOR JEWS

SAN JOSE, July 9.—Delivering a stirring appeal on behalf of the Jews of the Near East, Charles H. Brough, governor of Arkansas, and delegate from that state to the Democratic convention at San Francisco, last night addressed a packed house of interested listeners at the Victory Theater here.

Governor Brough was introduced by Judge Goshen of the Superior Court of this county, who stated that the speaker had been a close student of this subject for years.

"I do know my subject," said the governor in beginning his talk, "and I do desire the study I have placed on it I cannot fully comprehend the terrible suffering those helpless thousands of Jews have undergone in that far-off country. No one here can realize it. We are in safety, peace and comfort, while they struggle beneath the lash of their master."

"The Jews are a brave people. They have shown us in ages gone. And today they deserve the gratitude of the allied nations. Do you know that the Jews sent more than 200,000 of their nationality into the allied armies?"

These few items are just a sample of the many economies you will find daily.

Harding Lends Hand to Country Editor

BOONE, Ia., July 9.—The nomination of Warren G. Harding for president has recalled that he one time helped to publish the first issue of the Boone News-Republican when he was lieutenant-governor of Ohio. Senator Harding was scheduled to make a speech in Boone. While waiting for the hour he went to the newspaper office and said to the city editor, "My name's Harding." He explained he owned a newspaper and enjoyed being around the office. He was asked if he had a copy of his speech, and when he said he did not have it, he suggested he could use a typewriter and make an abstract. Senator Harding did. He typed, "Is there anything else I can do?"

A handful of proofs was shoved to him and the presidential nominee read and corrected them. He remained in the office the greater part of his stay in Boone, and when he left with a copy of the paper he helped publish, remarked, "See you again, maybe."

Frost Creek Dry First Time in Years

SAN JOSE, July 9.—For the first time in 10 years Camp Frost creek is dry, according to the statement of G. A. Frost, proprietor of Camp Frost and pioneer resident of this county. Frost pointed out the great need for water conservation in this country and states ranchers will suffer next losses unless the work is carried on to a successful finish.

It is also advocating the construction of a highway by the county to the northeast portion, asserting such a road would carry tourists and tourists through some of the most beautiful sections of the state.

"Hunting will be good this year," said Frost, who annually entertains many hunters at his ranch, "and I expect a number of friends when the season opens next month."

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE, tell them so.

HUSBAND MAY BE VICTIM OF THUGS IS FEAR OF WIFE

BERKELEY, July 9.—That her husband is the victim of foul play on the part of persons who know that he carried a large sum of money is the theory advanced today by Mrs. Dennis J. Keane, 2913 Telegraph avenue, to account for the disappearance of her husband Sunday last.

Mrs. Keane relates that on Saturday Keane drew more than $500 from the College avenue branch of the Bank of Italy, which he carelessly carried in his hand to the street, where his wife was waiting for him in an automobile.

That persons watched and followed her husband from the bank after the display of the big rolls and then seized their first opportunity to attack him on the following day as he walked from his home to the corner of Telegraph and Ashby avenues, thinking that he still had the money in his possession is the fear expressed by Mrs. Keane. Keane, according to his wife, always carried a large sum of money on his person and at the time of his disappearance had between $100 and $200 with him.

LOSS OF MONEY FEARED.
Another theory which members of the Keane family are most prone to advance is that Keane is an aplasia victim, suffering from a sudden loss of memory as a result of a nervous breakdown and the strain of undergoing a recent critical operation which left him weakened mentally and physically. They think he may have forgotten his identity and is either being harbored by strangers or is traveling as long as his money lasts. As soon as his memory returns, if such is the case, the family declares that the missing man will immediately communicate with them, as he has over been unusually solicitous for his wife and children.

The theory of the police that Keane, dependent at his weakened condition and realizing that he could never be cured, has committed suicide is scouted by his wife. Keane's automobile and his new motor boat, Hyak II, recently purchased by him, are at their places, one in the garage and the other anchored in the bay. Keane was an ardent yachtsman, being commander of the California Yacht club last year.

ELKS BEGIN SEARCH.
Chief of Police August Vollmer, a fellow Elk of Keane in the Berkeley lodge, has instituted a personal search for him, and has wired his description to all parts of the State. Keane has resided in Berkeley for almost thirty years. He was one of the organizers of the Ashby Volunteer Fire department many years ago and served as its assistant chief. Keane has three sons. James was a former actor at the Liberty theater, Oakland, and is now with the Standard Oil Company; while another son, "Bill" Keane, former baseball star, is now playing ball professionally. Robert Keane served in the navy during the war. A daughter, Mrs. G. E. Zepplin, lives at 639 Sixty-sixth street, Oakland.

CHANGES PLANNED IN AUDITORIUM

Inspection of the Municipal auditorium is being made by G. Arthur Lansburgh, San Francisco architect, with a view to improvements in the acoustic properties. Lansburgh will report to the city council, and the council will consider a contract with the architect for the remodeling of the interior of the auditorium arena. The project was broached by Mayor Davis after the latter's visit to the recent Democratic convention, when he was impressed with the improvements made by Lansburgh in the acoustic properties of the San Francisco hall.

Two Are Held Under Liquor Law Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—A. Palacios, who conducts a restaurant at 100 Columbus avenue, found this morning that a tin teapot was a poor medium for evading the liquor sleuths. Palacios appeared before U. S. Federal Judge W. W. Morrow and was held under $500 bonds. Joseph Panella of 1454 Seventh street, Oakland, also appeared before Judge Morrow this morning to explain his possession of two jugs of wine. He was also held under $500 bond.

DRIVER ADMITS RUNNING FROM INJURED VICTIMS

Claim is made by the police that William H. House, 3000 College avenue, confessed last night that he drove the car which struck and injured Harry and Mrs. Wright Tuesday. House admitted, the police say, that he abandoned his auto after hitting the Wrights in their car.

House was captured by the police yesterday in a booze-laden taxicab after a three-mile chase.

Efforts are being made by the police to connect the party of roisterers caught in the taxicab with the party which ran down L. E. Soberanes, 2424 Foothill boulevard, late Wednesday night.

House, together with Fred Hunter and Richard Hardie, were charged with violating the national prohibition act by the police last night, and were delivered over to federal officers early this morning. They will be tried before Commissioner Francis Krull today, and then Hardie and House will be brought back to Oakland, where, according to the police, they will face felony charges. The police intimated this morning that Hardie would be charged with driving an automobile while drunk, and House would be charged with assaulting injured persons after having run them down in an automobile.

The two women in the car were released by the police last night without being charged.

Efforts will be made today to identify the yellow taxicab as the car which ran down Soberanes Wednesday night, and the conductor of the street car from which Soberanes stepped will be shown the yellow automobile which was confiscated by the police.

The police said this morning that they would remain firm in their decision to confiscate the captured car and hand it over to the federal government, as is provided by law in all cases where automobiles are caught transporting liquor.

Milk and Electric Costs Wives' Topic

The recent order of the railroad commission relating to the increase in electric rates and the early increase of two cents a quart in milk, which has been intimated by State Market Director Daniels, will be discussed by Oakland chapter, California Federation of Housewives, at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, in the Council Chambers, City Hall. The program will be devoted to business.

Mrs. O. P. Cole, vice-president, will preside in the absence of Mrs. L. C. Grasser, president.

Housewives are urged to attend the public meeting which is called to combat the high cost of living.
